Our 50th Year

FOR 60 DAYS IN 1965,
TRY THIS REMARKABLE
NEW TEACHING METHOD!

Here, for the first time offered by any school, is an all new, simplified approach to mastering any branch of Electronics -- or Radio and TV -- or Communications. It's the remarkable "3 DIMENSIONAL" method of home-study teaching. And -- to you, it represents a dramatic new way of learning -- unlike anything you've encountered before! Here's what it's all about.

You and I know the most difficult part of any new project is getting started. Now, regardless of which NRI course you choose, your training begins with the educator-acclaimed NRI ACHIEVEMENT KIT.

This kit is scientifically designed and personalized for you and your training goal. It has one purpose -- to get you started quickly and easily! The subject matter for the training of your choice is presented in an astonishingly simple manner -- learning becomes as close to being fun as any school can make it!

Let's face it. It takes a great deal of stamina to wade through the typical 200, 300 or 500 page technical textbook. And -- it takes much more than stamina to remember half of what's been read. Now, the subject matter in every NRI course is taken down into "bite-size," thoroughly-illustrated books -- averaging an easily-digested 40 pages.

Ten "programmed" questions in each book make you remember the most important points covered. Your answers to these questions are carefully hand-graded and returned to you. Your instructor -- whom you'll hear from often -- will give you unlimited personal help and coaching. From the day you enroll, it's his job to be interested in you.

But, is reading enough? NRI says NO -- and introduces you to what we honestly believe represents the most effective, engrossing training kits used in Electronics courses anywhere. "Bite-size" textbooks in each of three major courses are programmed with NRI-designed training kits to give you actual on-the-job experience.

You'll learn by doing -- exploring -- discovering the same tube and transistor circuits you'd find working in Communications, Industrial Electronics or Radio-TV Servicing. Each training kit is designed from the "ground up" to specifically demonstrate principles you must know. NRI has never attempted to modify hobby kits or cardboard and plastic "toys" for use in training. You get the finest parts money can buy -- plus experience equal to many, many months of working on the job.

That's the new "3 DIMENSIONAL" NRI story.

- ... Your "tailored" Achievement Kit to get you off to the best possible start in your course.
- ... "Bite-size" lesson texts -- so easy to read -- and more important -- to remember.
- ... Excitingly different NRI training kits to make the things you read about come alive in a most interesting way.

Now, I am absolutely convinced you'll be enthused with this new idea in learning. I ask you to do this --

TRY AN NRI COURSE FOR 60 DAYS IN YOUR SPARE TIME

After 60 days as a regular student, make your decision to go ahead -- or stop. Should you decide to quit, just write us. Your enrollment will be immediately terminated without further cost or obligation. Rest assured, there will be no hard feelings, questions or quibbling on our part. (But, as a fair warning, if you're a typical student, you won't want to quit even if we asked you to!) Could anything be fairer than this offer?

You and I both know the entire Electronics field will continue to show the most rapid growth rate of any industry in world history! Is there any really good reason why you shouldn't start now -- in the beginning of a New Year -- to grow with it? With so much at stake, can you afford to put it off any longer?

You'll have 60 days from the day you enroll to discover why NRI is the largest school of its kind in the country today.

I'll look for your enrollment by return mail! Your starting package -- the NRI Achievement Kit -- will be on its way to you within 24 hours after your enrollment reaches me.

Sincerely yours,

J. M. Smith

President

P.S. Enroll today! After March 8, 1965, I cannot promise your enrollment will be accepted with this New Year 60-Day Trial privilege.

EXPLANATION OF KIT BUDGET PLAN

If you enroll under Plan C, you may order Kits only as you want them, by making a "Budget Payment" according to the schedule at right. These "Budget Payments" are not extra charges. They are deducted from your total tuition, as shown on opposite side. If you enroll under Plan A or B, Kits and Texts will be sent automatically, before you finish material on hand. The amount of training material you receive depends on your progress rather than special payments. You set your own pace; study as fast or slow as you wish.

Our Fiftieth Year

The NRI "60-Day Trial" Plan

means you enroll with the following points agreed on

NRI Agrees

... to send your personal Achievement Kit containing first group of lessons, 190-page Electronics Dictionary, vinyl desk folder, paper, envelopes, pen, pencil—everything you need to get started.

... you may complete lessons as fast as you wish. We keep you supplied with additional lessons as you need them. You are not required to pay for lesson material before it is sent. Your progress is not, in any way, governed by your payment plan.

... we will hand grade all lessons and kit reports you submit, make appropriate comments and return them to you.

You Agree

... to give the course a good, fair trial.

... that in addition to your payment with enrollment, you will make one monthly payment,

*(Within 60 days after you enroll, you will get a statement for your second monthly payment. At that time, make your decision—stop or go ahead. If, for any reason, you decide to cancel—just tell us. You will have received considerable value for your money—and will have no further obligation to NRI.)

If you do not request NRI to cancel your enrollment, it is understood that you want NRI

... we will supply Consultation Service you request—even after you graduate.

... we will ship Training Kits (for those courses which include Kits) as set forth in your Enrollment Application.

*... and we agree, unconditionally, to cancel your enrollment—without question, and without obligation to you—or ... should you decide to continue, we will credit you with all money you pay during this trial period. There will be no break in our service to you as a student.

due 30 days after you enroll, under the enrollment plan you select.

*... you will send written notice to NRI within 60 days if you want to cancel.

to continue serving you as a regular student and that you will pay for your course according to the terms checked on enrollment application.

Within 60 days, you will know, for sure, whether you wish to continue as a student. Naturally, we hope you will not cancel. But if cancel is your decision, rest assured we will not argue or quibble.

—and be sure—

*NRI training is the right
training for you*

Many schools require a prospective student to pass an "Entrance Examination" before accepting his enrollment. Most private colleges and universities require applicants to take "College Board Examinations."

In the case of training by home-study, an entrance examination is not entirely appropriate. I doubt that any single examination can show whether or not an NRI course would be an effective method of training for you.

However, a Sixty-Day Trial plan serves the educational purposes of an Entrance Examination. It permits us to observe and judge your understanding of NRI lessons. During this trial, you will clearly indicate your ability to learn by the NRI method.

Enroll now, for two months, as an NRI student. Form your own accurate opinion of our lessons, the Training Kits and NRI service. Your decision to cancel, or to go ahead with the course, will be an informed decision.
